CTP's Special Teams Package!

In many instances authors request help with their writing processes or demonstrate specific requirements that need to be addressed to complete their writing projects with excellence.

Some authors request ghost writing services or co-authorship arrangements.

Other authors request custom art and color photography insertion.

Still others want us to provide a company or personal logo, or crest, to enhance brand identification and marketability.

CTP provides these services and more to complement and enhance your Superior Package.

Our Special Teams Package includes a wide array of writing and artistic services to create, enhance, and complete your manuscript. These are priced separately. Examples:

1. Ghost writing: Ghost writing is the process where a manuscript is written by a person other than the author, where the author's name appears as owner of exclusive copyright. Generally ghost writing is defined as a "work for hire" where money paid to the ghost writer constitutes

- payment in full for services rendered. Various arrangements can apply and each situation is considered and decided individually based on the needs of the exclusive owner of copyright.
2. Artwork: Many books call for artistic contributions to illustrate text. We work with gifted artists who can supply designs and compelling artistic representations for your book, in color or black and white. Fees are commensurate with the project and are priced separately.
  3. Color photography: CTP can include color photography as part of your book text. We use professional and gifted photographers for your pictures, or you can submit your own. Choices of print and paper can be made from a variety of print quality options.
  4. Logos: Individuals and organizations often use logos for identification, branding, and promotion. We can design and create customized logos for you. Logos can be used in your book, website, printed media, and more. Fees are commensurate with the project and are priced separately.
  5. Audio books: Our team of recording professionals will record your book! These recordings can be made available on an expanding array of distribution media. Audio recording can be done “dry” (voice only) or with musical enhancement. Fees are commensurate with the project and are priced separately.
  6. Music, Original, Recorded, Published: Do you want to create a theme song or a collection of songs that you would make available as part of your book project? Glen Aubrey, owner of Creative Team Publishing is an Emmy® Award Winning Song Writer (2012). He and his production team will work with you or your exclusive owner of copyright to provide music for your publication that can be utilized in an ever expanding array of distribution outlets.
  7. Giveaways or Saleable Products for Marketing and Distribution: Many authors provide marketing incentives in the form of items to be given as expressions of appreciation or sold separately to enhance branding and customer loyalty. Our team of gifted artisans will help you design the quality accessory products that will serve you best and your customers best.

We call this package Special Teams because highly gifted people with remarkable talents are engaged to fulfill the special needs your manuscript and promotion efforts may require. Their work is nothing short of spectacular. If your manuscript is accepted for publication, we invite you to consider our Special Teams Package along with your Superior Package.
